Area police report

By PETER WALKER Tribune-Herald staff writer

Friday, December 24, 2004

A man featured on the Waco's Most Wanted list who is accused of trying to kill a Waco police officer was arrested Wednesday.

Jesse Ramos, 25, of Waco, was arrested on a charge of attempted capital murder of a police officer. He was arrested in an Irving apartment by members of the Dallas-Fort Worth U.S. Marshals Fugitive Task Force.

Ramos allegedly tried to run over a Waco police officer on Oct. 20 at the Starplex Cinema at 333 S. Valley Mills Drive. Police suspected that he was breaking into cars in the parking lot. When officers approached him, he fled in a car, clipping an officer and knocking him to the ground, police said.

The officer was treated by paramedics at the scene and was not hospitalized.

Ramos had been on Waco's Most Wanted list since the incident.

The Waco marshals task force provided the information leading to the arrest, said Chris Casson, a Waco task force member.

Ramos was being held at the Dallas County Jail Thursday night, awaiting transfer to McLennan County.
